The aspirations of the people of the earth to peace are clogged with misunderstandings and doubts. At home and abroad we are beset by dissension and chaos. Bickerings and distrust clouded the proceedings of the United Nations.

Never was the need for unity more clamorous than it is today and seldom have the prospects for it been dimmer. It must never be said that we found its achievement impossible. There is a way: the way in which our grandfathers and fathers believed; the way that has been preached for centuries. It is the way of religious faith, and the finest way to effect it is by closer relations between the congregations of the different forms of worship. There could be no better time than this for the parishioners of all churches - Protestant, Catholic and Jewish - to join together in a concerted effort toward harmony and better understanding.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Archie Gubbrud, Governor of the State of South Dakota do hereby proclaim Sunday, September 24, 1961 as throughout the State of South Dakota and I urge the members of all congregations and organizations in the State to join in this movement on behalf of civilization.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State at the Capitol in the City of Pierre this 6 day of September In the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-One.
